Cost of Attendance (Budget Plan)

The Cost of Attendance (COA) is a calculation of the total cost to attend school for one year. The Department of Education's definition of the Cost of Attendance (COA) for a student is an estimate of that student's educational expenses for the period of enrollment.

For your convenience, a list of approved Cost of Attendance items is provided below. Please plan accordingly as no extra funds will be available after you have met your COA each year.

Fixed costs + variable costs = COA

Fixed costs include:

All fees such as tuition, accident coverage, student activities and other fees.

Variable costs include:

Housing, food, supplies, transportation, personal expenses, immigration fees, etc.

Your current consumer debt is not part of the COA, only educational-related items are eligible, this is why we strongly recommend that you plan ahead and pay off your credit card(s), car payments, mortgage, etc. prior to entering Universidad del Noreste.

Paying off and/or cancelling all (or even part) of your consumer debt before starting your undergraduate school, will allow you to more effectively manage your funds and stress levels. And help you avoid consumer debt defaults that will negatively impact your credit score.

The amounts shown are the maximums allowed, but we encourage you to borrow only what you need. Keep in mind, tuition and fees will remain fixed throughout your course of study.
